

ACG POLICY ON INDUSTRY SPONSORED SATELLITE SYMPOSIA

The American College of Gastroenterology recognizes that satellite events are often arranged in conjunction with its scheduled CME activities as a convenience to the target audience in attendance. The College remains sensitive to assuring that these programs are appropriately used for educational purposes. ACG retains the right to limit a company's right to priority or participation in future years if a particular satellite symposium program were to deviate markedly from the professional, educational atmosphere and decorum of the meeting.

General Rules

1. Educational symposia activities designed by or on behalf of industry for attendance by ACG meeting attendees are considered satellite events. There can be no implication in any promotional materials, handouts, or enduring materials that they are planned, sponsored or endorsed by ACG.
2. Satellite activities developed by industry must be offered during times allotted by ACG. ACG has sole discretion to schedule all activities at its meetings. Time slots offered will not interfere with any ACG scheduled programming.
3. Promotional materials for satellite activities must receive prior approval from ACG.
4. ACG does not provide AMA-PRA Category 1 credit for satellite activities. Those wishing to offer credit for their symposia must obtain credit from another accredited CME provider.

8. All symposia material must contain the following statement: "This event is neither sponsored by nor endorsed by ACG."
9. Organizers of satellite events are solely responsible for making all appropriate financial arrangements for their activity.
10. Representatives from ACG may attend the satellite activity without cost to audit compliance with this policy.
11. The use of the ACG name on any announcement, sign, publication or other material before, during or after the meeting requires prior written approval by ACG. Any organization providing meeting highlights of the event (to report clinical updates) or other educational initiatives (CME and non-CME), via print or online, may not use the ACG name without prior written approval by ACG. A detailed description must be provided at the time the request is made.
12. Videotaping the satellite activities within the assigned meeting room is permitted; however videotaping outside of the designated area is strictly prohibited.
