

National Capital Consortium Top Program in GI Jeopardy Competition

Victors in this year's GI Jeopardy competition were the team from the National Capital Consortium (Bethesda/Walter Reed): LCDR Mark N. Damiano, MD, and CPT Angelo Paredes, MD. The other finalist teams were: Cleveland

Clinic Foundation, Jackson Memorial Hospital/Jackson Health System, University of California (San Diego), and University of California (San Francisco). A team from the National Capital Consortium (Bethesda/Walter Reed) also won the GI Jeopardy competition at the 2006 ACG Annual Meeting.

This was the eighth year that the GI Jeopardy competition has taken place. The winning team receives a $1,000 grant toward travel to next year's ACG Annual GI Jeopardy host, Ronald Szyjkowski, MD, FACC, is flanked by this year's winning team from the National Capital Consortium (Bethesda/Walter Reed), LCDR Mark N. Damiano, MD (right), and CPT Angelo Paredes, MD (left).

Scientific Meeting and Postgraduate Course which will take place at The Venetian in Las Vegas, and the GI Jeopardy Cup to display at their facility for the year.

As the sun set over the Gaylord National Convention Center, five teams of GI fellows met to compete for top honors in the 2011 GI Jeopardy Competition. For more than an hour, the teams matched wits answering some tough questions that covered the gamut of gastrointestinal organs, diseases and treatments. Hosted by Ronald Szyjkowski, MD, FACC, the teams squared off in a fight for the buzzer in front of a live audience of more than 300 attendees.

ACG 2011 Attendees Turn Exhibit Hall Visit into Prizes

Two drawings provided up to eight chances to win a prize

Eight lucky ACG 2011 attendees earned prizes this year at ACG 2011 just by visiting select exhibitors in the Exhibit Hall. Two drawings were sponsored by exhibitors: The 2011 Clinical Case Challenge, sponsored by IU Health, and the ACG 2011 Scavenger Hunt, which was sponsored by seven exhibitors (see list below). The College congratulates the winners.

THE ACG 2011 CLINICAL CASE CHALLENGE WINNERS

Chethana Kanaparathi, Brooklyn, NY
Qinghua Yang, Irving, TX
Michael Wang, Decatur, AL

THE ACG 2011 SCAVENGER HUNT WINNERS

Jian Chu Yu, Hauppague, NY
Saurabh Chawla, Chicago, IL
Kathleen Kerr, Fogelsville, PA
Xi Zheng, East Meadow, NY
Jason Wilson, Charlotte, NC

ACG thanks the following 2011 Scavenger Hunt sponsoring exhibitors:

Braintree Laboratories, Inc.
Given Imaging, Inc.
GI Pathology, PLLC
Prometheus Laboratories, Inc.
Sandhill Scientific
ACG GI Circle
Digestive Health SmartBrief